5 Copy-Paste Messages That Turn "How Much?" Into Bank Transfers (Without Getting Ghosted)

By Itoya David | Founder, SCALE GROUP Execution Series

The Core Problem: Most service providers, creators, and freelancers lose 80% of their sales in direct messages because of one critical error: replying with a price tag before establishing value. When you state your price upfront, the prospect compares your price to their bank balance rather than the problem you solve. Use the 5 battle-tested scripts below to control the conversation, qualify buyers, and close deals effortlessly.

SCRIPT 1: The 1 Budget-Qualification Question

Goal: Filters out zero-budget time-wasters within 3 messages without being rude.

COPY & PASTE THIS SCRIPT:

"Glad you reached out, [Name]! Before we talk numbers, what is your primary revenue or growth goal for this month? (I want to make sure we're built for what you actually need right now)."

■ EXECUTION TIP: If they reply with a real goal, they have intent. If they refuse to answer or demand a price only, they are window shopping.

SCRIPT 2: The 'How Much Is It?' Value-Anchor Response

Goal: Deflects premature price requests and anchors expected ROI first.

COPY & PASTE THIS SCRIPT:

"Our clients typically see a 3x to 5x return on their investment within the first 30 days. To give you the exact tier price: are you looking for complete done-for-you execution, or step-by-step implementation guidance?"

■ EXECUTION TIP: Notice you answered their question with a choice of options. This shifts their mindset from 'how expensive' to 'which option fits me best'.

SCRIPT 3: The 'Too Expensive' Objection Neutralizer

Goal: Turns price pushback into an immediate deposit or retainer confirmation.

COPY & PASTE THIS SCRIPT:

"I completely understand, [Name]. Compared to doing nothing and continuing to lose clients every week, this is a fraction of the cost. If budget is tight right now, we can split this into 2 structured payments of [50% Amount] so you start generating revenue this week. Does that work for you?"

■ EXECUTION TIP: Offering a split-pay structure removes financial friction while keeping your pricing integrity intact.

SCRIPT 4: The 48-Hour Re-Engagement Trigger

Goal: Revives ghosted DM leads who stopped replying without sounding needy or desperate.

COPY & PASTE THIS SCRIPT:

"Hey [Name], I'm finalizing our client schedule for this week and have 1 slot remaining. Should I hold it for you, or did you decide to pause this project for now?"

■ EXECUTION TIP: This uses gentle takeaway scarcity. People hate losing an opportunity they almost had.

SCRIPT 5: The Bank Transfer Assumptive Close

Goal: Transitions the conversation smoothly from agreement to payment.

COPY & PASTE THIS SCRIPT:

"Awesome! You can complete your deposit here: [Your Paystack Link or Bank Details]. Once done, reply with your payment screenshot and I'll send over your instant onboarding access immediately."

■ EXECUTION TIP: Give them a clear 2-step directive (Click link → Send screenshot). Clear instructions increase completion rates by 40%.
